

Resources for Military Families

Helpful Websites

Website	Resources
Militaryonesource.com http://www.militaryonesource.com	“A 24/7 Resource for Military Members, Spouses and Families”, has numerous resources and links to additional resources provided by the DOD and other organizations.
Military HOMEFRONT http://www.militaryhomefront.dod.mil	Military news, blogs, resources and links to additional military resources.
Military Child Education Coalition http://www.militarychild.org	The site promotes quality education for military children impacted by mobility, transition and separation. They partner with numerous organizations and link to art and writing contests for children.
Zerotothree.org http://www.zerotothree.org  http://tinyurl.com/249wa5n	Zero to Three is dedicated to improving the lives of infants and toddlers; website includes a “Coming Together Around Military Families” section, which offers numerous resources for military families. A quarterly online newsletter is available.
Unitedthroughreading.org http://www.unitedthroughreading.org  http://www.unitedthroughreading.org/military	United Through Reading is dedicated to uniting separated family members through the bond of reading. One service they offer is to record a service member reading to his/her family and send the DVD to the family.
Maryland’s Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) http://brac.maryland.gov	Maryland government website with information about BRAC jobs, places to live, education and other BRAC information.
Aberdeen Proving Ground, Chesapeake Science and Security Corridor  http://tinyurl.com/2g7yrck	PDF Fact sheet about BRAC with links to more information.